SAY "YES" TO REFEIS THAT DRESS

The resale market for Irish Dance costumes is as robust as ever, and services like ReFeis That Dress make it easy to connect sellers with potential buyers globally. Painless solo costume sales can be tricky, so dancers turn to trusted services to help them through the process. At ReFeis That Dress, company owners Helen and Amanda ensure both buyer and seller walk away from the transaction happy. Their goal is for dancers to say "YES" to the ReFeis That Dress costume. One unique aspect of their business is that they also offer costume rentals. This is ideal for dancers who have outgrown their current costume or sold a costume before their new one arrives. The process to sell a costume with ReFeis That Dress begins with emailing info@refeisthatdress.com stating you have a solo costume to sell, including your name, contact information and a picture of the costume. Once the ladies have your costume, sellers can relax as Helen and Amanda do all the work, including professional photos, social media and web, private fittings, negotiations, and all the travelling. Potential buyers search www.refeisthatdress.com through filters or by sending an email asking to be part of the personal shopping experience. Dresses are numbered according to length, from the shoulder to the hemline. There is a search field and tags to narrow choices. The company also offers private fittings either in person or via video chat to find the dancer their perfect solo costume. For more information, be sure to check them out at www.refeisthatdress.com or on Facebook and Instagram!
